As Is not the Postage system, of this Country, one of the best things in it. — or in any country?

I am glad my last note gave you the information you required. —

going before the post, would Convey them, - then I wish you a safe, & pleasant passage to your home, - where I trust you may find all who are dear to you, mercifully preserved, & in good health,
- and for your Country, it will be a grateful thing to me, when I shall hear, that the people there, have left off the brutal practice, of scoring the live limbs, to mark the ownership of men, - as we score park, - Dear Sir. I am.

Sincerely Yours

John Childs.

Dear Sir.

Your note just received, has about ^{it} the tone of departure, and it just struck me, that if you were likely to remain, in London, through this week, and will say so by return, - I would send you a few printed papers, that might be used on your return, for an article in your Evangelist, to shew the working of the State Church in this country, - If you wish for such practical things, as I should send you, - be good enough to say so, I will send you what I can lay my hand on. If however, you purpose Rev^d A A Phelps.
